

NAW BAWK

LIFE COMMUNITY MYANMAR | GREENSBORO, N.C.

COOPERATIVE PROGRAM
How North Carolina Baptist Support Ministers

OCTOBER 25, 2020

According to the Center for New North Carolinians, Guilford and Mecklenburg counties become home to about half of all new refugees in the state each year. A large percentage of the most recent arrivals to the Greensboro area are people groups from Myanmar in Southeast Asia.

Bawk Naw, Burmese coordinator for the N.C. Asian Ministries Team of the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina, and Life Community Myanmar Church regularly reach out to those in the Burmese community. Many of their Burmese neighbors are Buddhists, and they do not know the saving grace of Jesus Christ.

One creative way that Bawk and his church introduce those in their community to the new hope in Jesus is during the Christmas season. They stroll through Burmese neighborhoods, singing Christmas carols, sharing the good news of Christ's birth and distributing Burmese Bibles.

Our church is supporting Bawk through the Cooperative Program. Today, let's pray for him as he trains and disciples his church members to be effective in reaching their neighbors with the gospel of Christ. Pray that God will open doors for more Burmese churches to be planted, and that current churches are equipped through Christ-centered teaching and sound doctrine.

Thank you for your church's giving through the Cooperative Program.

NAW BAWK

LIFE COMMUNITY MYANMAR | GREENSBORO, N.C.

COOPERATIVE PROGRAM
How North Carolina Baptist Support Ministers

OCTOBER 25, 2020

According to the Center for New North Carolinians, Guilford and Mecklenburg counties become home to about half of all new refugees in the state each year. A large percentage of the most recent arrivals to the Greensboro area are people groups from Myanmar in Southeast Asia.

Bawk Naw, Burmese coordinator for the N.C. Asian Ministries Team of the Baptist State Convention of North Carolina, and Life Community Myanmar Church regularly reach out to those in the Burmese community. Many of their Burmese neighbors are Buddhists, and they do not know the saving grace of Jesus Christ.

One creative way that Bawk and his church introduce those in their community to the new hope in Jesus is during the Christmas season. They stroll through Burmese neighborhoods, singing Christmas carols, sharing the good news of Christ's birth and distributing Burmese Bibles.

Our church is supporting Bawk through the Cooperative Program. Today, let's pray for him as he trains and disciples his church members to be effective in reaching their neighbors with the gospel of Christ. Pray that God will open doors for more Burmese churches to be planted, and that current churches are equipped through Christ-centered teaching and sound doctrine.

Thank you for your church's giving through the Cooperative Program.