

MISSIONARY HIGHLIGHT: DECEMBER 13, 2020

MATT LAWSON

CALIFORNIA

In a city where some of the world's greatest stories are birthed, it is difficult for some to believe the greatest story of them all – the story of Jesus Christ. Matt Lawson, pastor and church planter of Story City Church, is passionate about serving the people who live and work in the heart of Burbank, California. Matt works to share Christ where the vast majority of those he connects with are shaping culture through storytelling. Our church is supporting Matt through the Cooperative Program. Today, let's pray for him and Story City Church.

The desire for fame and significance impacts the daily lives of those in the entertainment industry — those who live and work in Burbank, California. As Matt invests in a community of writers, directors, actors, singers and producers, he seeks to encourage them to personally consider the message of the gospel and find their value in Christ.

With one church for every 23,000 people, there's a long way to go to introduce Christ to the 19 million people of the Greater Los Angeles area, but Story City Church and the North American Mission Board are partnering together to make a difference in the heart of Hollywood.

Let's lift up Matt and his family as they work and live in Burbank, and pray for protection and endurance as they engage in another year of ministry in Los Angeles. Pray for Story City Church to be effective in reaching people from its original Burbank location, as well as a newer church plant that began near the end of 2019.
