

COASTAL

The Coastal population center is located in the southeastern coastal region of North Carolina. It is composed of several cities, the two largest being Jacksonville and Wilmington. Jacksonville is home to Camp Lejeune, the largest Marine base on the East Coast. This base contributes to Jacksonville's young population where the median age is 23, making it one of the youngest populations of any city in the U.S. Wilmington is home to the largest National Register Historic District in the state, making it the ideal location for many to live. Though often associated with tourism, Wilmington has a large population of permanent residents. Many churches dot the landscape of the region; however, a growing majority of the population has little interest in a relationship with Jesus Christ.

COASTAL

[PRAYER PROMPTS]

- 1 Pray that believers would identify with the lost around them and build gospel relationships within their communities.
- 2 Pray for missional opportunities in schools, colleges, neighborhoods and workplaces.
- 3 Pray that each church would build a disciple-making culture through personally and relationally making disciples.
- 4 Pray that on-mission churches will grow in health, sharpen kingdom focus and plant new churches.
- 5 Pray for gospel partnerships between believers, churches, associations, and the community—partnerships that impact lostness through disciple-making.

MORE INFORMATION

Chuck Campbell

Strategy Coordinator – North Coastal
ccampbell@ncbaptist.org

Michael Boarts

Strategy Coordinator – South Coastal
mboarts@ncbaptist.org

