

GREENVILLE

The Greenville population center is located in the northeastern coastal region of North Carolina. This large geographical area is home to several major cities such as Rocky Mount, Goldsboro and Wilson, with Greenville being the center. This section of the state has developed as a medical, commercial, educational and cultural hub. Due to the small percentage of churches, however, there are various challenges and much work to be done across this broad rural region. We are asking Christ to stir His people for the lost in the northeastern coastal region, and to encourage brothers and sisters to come together in building new ministries and congregations for God's glory.
